1627 Johnson St. -- A Legacy of Design, A Life Fully Lived. Some homes reveal themselves slowly -- and this is one of them. Designed by the late Michael Ingram, one of Key West's most celebrated architects, this was his final project and, for three years, his own home. He built it the way he lived -- with intention, precision, and an uncompromising commitment to quality that no passing glance from the street could convey. Step through the gate and the story becomes immediately clear. Completed in 2019 on an oversized 7,200-square-foot corner lot, the residence is enclosed by solid concrete walls that create a world entirely apart -- private, lush, and serene. Soaring vaulted ceilings, white oak floors, and six skylights flood the open living spaces with natural light. Impact-rated windows and doors, automatic electric blinds throughout, and a built-in generator ensure effortless comfort in every season. The kitchen features a gas stove, custom cabinetry, and a butler's pantry. The primary suite is finished in deep charcoal tones with an oversized shower. The current owner layered Ingram's architecture with a fearless, joyful personality entirely their own -- designer wallpaper in sweeping hues of hot pink crowns the guest room ceiling, setting the tone for interiors that are bold, tropical, and entirely alive.
